BrickieFest Homecoming Picnic on September 15, at the Brickyard from 12 noon to 3 pm: Bring Your Lawn Chairs!

The all-class BrickieFest Picnic will be held on Saturday, September 15, during Hobart's Homecoming Football weekend, from 12 noon to 3:00 pm. This year's picnic will be at the Brickyard (the football stadium behind Hobart High School). You can enter from Union Street off 10th Street, and park in the east parking lot. Bring your lawn chairs, because there will not be picnic table seating.

The tailgate picnic is being sponsored by the Hobart Football Booster Club, and Brickie Spirit Wear will be available for purchase. It is for all alumni of Hobart High School. Hot dogs, brats, chips and bottled water will be served free of charge by the HHS Alumni Association.

The Homecoming football game is on Friday evening, September 14, against Andean High School. The game starts at 7:00. Come for the weekend: cheer for the Brickies on Friday night, and meet your friends at the BrickieFest picnic on Saturday!

Alumni Spotlight

Craig Osika, Hobart Brickies Head Football Coach

Our Alumni Spotlight this issue is on Craig Osika, Hobart High School alumnaus from the Class of 1998, and now the Head Football Coach of the Hobart Brickies.

As the new Head Coach of the Hobart Brickies football team, how would you describe your coaching style? Should we expect any big changes?

I don't expect there to be any big changes. I have been part of the staff for a number of years so the kids know what my expectations are. I expect our athletes to be disciplined in all aspects of their lives, and I expect them to give their best effort in everything that they do. I like to have fun with the kids but they also have a good understanding when it is time for fun and when it's time for work.

How would you describe your football experience when you were at Hobart High School?

I was fortunate to play in the Coach Howell era. It was one of the best experiences of my athletic career. People will ask what was more fun playing college football or playing in the NFL. My answer to them is, I had more fun playing high school football. There is really nothing that matches the Friday night lights.

You played under Cam Cameron at Indiana University, right? What was it like playing at IU?

I was part of Coach Cameron's second recruiting class. I really enjoyed playing for Cam and his staff. My position coach at IU really reminded me of Coach Don Rogers, and was a big influence on my decision to attend IU. I had a great experience at IU, I started playing as a true freshman and finished starting over 40 games in my career. I played for a lot of great coaches and developed lifelong friendships, and got to play in the best college football conference in the country.

Tell us about your years in the National Football League.

My career was short lived in the NFL. I did spend 3 years on the active roster with the San Francisco 49ers and the Cleveland Browns, but was never able to find a team to stick with. It is fun to say that I was once good enough to play in the NFL. Not many people get to say that. My time in the NFL was fun, but also very stressful. One day things could be going great, and the next day you could get hurt and cut. The NFL has really set me up for my future and I am very fortunate that I took advantage of some of the financial opportunities they provided their player with.

Were there any teachers or experiences in the Hobart schools that made a strong impression or influence on your life and career path?

I would say that all my coaches played a major influence in me becoming a teacher. I didn't decide to choose to become a teacher until I was 30. After retiring from the NFL I worked as a supervisor at US steel and then spent a number of years in medical sales. I finally decided that I really wanted to be able to coach full time and the only way that I was going to be able to do so was to become a teacher. I went back to school full time and earned a bachelor's degree in education. Becoming a teacher was the best decision I have ever made. I love my job and enjoy coming to work every day. I hope that I am influencing and having the same impact on my kids that my coaches had on me.

Concussion injuries are a big point of discussion these days. Has your approach to coaching changed as a result of this discussion?

I don't think that I really have a choice. The state has regulated the type of practice and the amount of time that you can spend with your athletes.

Professional athletics is by nature a very competitive business. What advice would you give for high school students, especially athletes, who are considering college and their career?

I tell all my students to set realistic goals. I am honest with them and let them know that statistics prove that the majority of them will not play at the college level. I don't discourage them from trying to obtain that goal but I also want them to understand the probability is low. I want them to make their education a priority, it will set them up for opportunities that might not be there without it. I tell them that nothing in life comes easy, it is going to take hard work and sacrifices to get the things you want in life. I try to encourage them to be good people, be kind to others, and treat people the way you would want to be treated. I feel that if they do those things that they have a great opportunity to become productive members of society.
